Lardner Hears "Spaniard" Glynn As He Puts the Con in Convention

(By Ring W. Lardner.)
ST. LOUIS, Mo., June 16.—They had a trifle over two hours of convention here today and didn't do nothing because they was afraid that if they got down to business and done something there wouldn't be nothing left to do and we got to stay here till Saturday so as the browers will clean up enough to spend the summer at South Haven. I will write this stuff like usual in chronological order like it happened, the same way two other star writers, Irving S. Cobb and Arthur Brisbane, writes their stuff, and each one of we three stars claims that the others stole the idea from him, but it was Moses that really got up the idea.

Two miles an hour he'd blow out a spark plug and it would cost him the case, instead of me going in the press box like usual, I set way up in the sulfrage set right behind me and kept me on tender hooks til the music started. After a while the band played "Maryland, My Maryland," the tune of which was made in Germany, and "My Country "Tis of Thee," that the melody was wrote in enutral.

Then the convention opened up and it would cost him the tack.

Riley Wilson, the Virginia spell-binder, spell bound us till 4 o'clock this morning and I didn't have anything to do after that til 7 o'clock when I was billed to meet a train, so I got pretty near two hours' sleep and that's prety good for a convention.

Then I wanted to get two extratickets to the convention and I went in the Sullivan headquarters and says to Mr. Skidmore:

"Mr. Skidmore," I says, "Mr. Brennan promised me a couple of extra tickets."

So Mr. Skidmore give me the couple of tickets and then I went out and see Mr. Brennan and ast him

Brennan promised me a couple of extra tickets."

So Mr. Skidmore give me the couple of tickets and then I went out and see Mr. Brennan and ast him for a couple of extra tickets, and he says: "Sure I will get them for you," but I says: "Never mind, I already got them."

So then I went to the manager of the hotel and ast him to put Frank king out of my room and he put Frank out and give him another room, and now I won't have to furnish ideas for cartoons no more.

Pretty soon it come time to go out to the Coliseum and I rode out in a horseless carriage and the man that drove it was seared if he went over ould get hungry and go home. my size to select from, so I got them both and am going without meals toBut he stuck right on the job and night and tomerrow. would get hungry and go home.

But he stuck right on the job and when everybody was sick of making a monkey of themself, he was nice and fresh and ready to continue and had thought up a few hundred words to say about Old Glory and little Eva. Once he says something speak and I was ast to go and keep with the sounded like Mr. Bryan, and ingraverities. I will just ignore that sounded like Mr. Bryan was down in the press box and was nattily at their darn old party and when I say party I don't mean the Demotrated in a prince albert coat that the prince had forgot to take off one night.

tired in a prince albert coat that the prince had forgot to take off one night.

Mr. Bryan travels light, they say.
He doesn't even have to carry a hairbrush. I and He will be just alike that way in a few more years. Alexander Hamilton seemed to be Governor Glynn's favorite topic of conversation, because, as I says before, they ain't no old Democrats that the party can boast of.

The gov. got mixed in a figure of speech once and put himself in bad with the suffrage element.

"The rugged hands of the women and the delicate hands of the women and the delicate hands of the men."

"The rugged hands of the women and the delicate hands of the women and the delicate hands of the men."

Along about the middle of Governor Glynn's tour, I seen Percy Hammond get up and bolt the Democratic party.

Secretary Kremer says a few words about what the convention had been called for, so as they would not nobody think they was there to silice cucumbers.

Charlie White, the New York referee, was head door tender.

"How do they look to you?" I ast

In this hotel and ignore that.

When I made up my mind that they wasn't no use me staying round no longer, I beat it down town and went in the big department story to buy a shirt. They was two of the creek of the montes have a large lead in this match.
